59th QoC Talk:

'What we can do to establish a good education and which new pedagogical approach we may propose'

The presentation will be given by Martine Reicherts, Director-General for Education and Culture in the European Commission.

Time: Tuesday 14 June from 11.00 until 13.00 hours

Location: European Parliament, Rue Wiertz 60, Brussels, Altiero Spinelli, Room A5G305.

Entrance: We will gather at the Entrance at Place Luxembourg at 10.30 hours and enter together into the building. Please be in time. It is obligatory to take your passport and/or ID Card with you.

Background information

Mrs Reicherts will talk about her vision of good education that helps children to unlock their potential and that includes care for children's emotional, moral, social and physical development. Learning and education do not begin with compulsory schooling; they start from birth. The family is the first and most important place for children to grow and develop; parents and teachers share the responsibility for each child's well being.

Good education uses pedagogies that help children build their learning capacities so that they remain curious, capable, intelligent individuals and passionate learners throughout their adult lives. Good education equips them with the tools they need for their lifetime journey of self-development. Mrs Reicherts will address the factors and approaches that best support making this a reality.

Overall objectives of the QoC Talks:

- To gain a better understanding of the Quality of Childhood in the EU Member States. This time we will focus on 'What we can do to establish a good education and which new pedagogical approach we may propose?'
- To reflect on the role that the European institutions can play to improve the situation.
- To get to grips with the values, principles and approaches that could lead to improvements for children both in Europe and around the world.
- To form an effective working group and to get a sense of how to move on.

We take pleasure in inviting you for the 59th session on 14 June 2016. We believe that we as members of the European Parliament working together with like-minded public interest advocacy groups and committed individuals can and should play an important role in this area.

Yours sincerely,
